Front-end development: Objects

JavaScript – Book

The following exercise contains the following subjects:

- Objects

Instructions

1. Create an object that represents a book. It should have 4-5 properties that make sense for a book to have.
2. Then write a function that has one argument, a book, that will return the following description from your book object: 'The book <book name> was written by <author name> in the year <publishing year>'